Transforming Care
Partnership

What is the Calderdale, Kirklees, Wakefield and Barnsley (CKWB) Transforming Care Partnership Plan

We are working on a plan to change care for people with a learning disability and/or autism in our areas.

There are 2 national plans called:

- Building the Right Support
- National Service Model October 2015.

National plans are plans for the whole of England. We will make our plan fit in with the National plans.

Each area in Calderdale, Kirklees, Wakefield and Barnsley will use the plan to work on their own local services.

Our Partnership will check how the areas are doing.

It will help to share good information across the areas to make sure we are all working in the best way.

Who is the plan for?

The plan is for everyone in the community but we want to make sure it is good for people who:

- Have a mental health illness. This is an illness in the mind. For example people who may have depression.
- Have behaviour that can challenge people. This is behaviour that may hurt themselves or other people.
- Have Risky Behaviour like setting fires or being abusive which means that they may be in contact with the Criminal Justice System. This is the Police or the Courts.
- People who may have a problem with alcohol or drugs or people who have had a difficult family life.
- Have a mental health illness or behaviour that can challenge people and who have been in hospitals for a long time.

What do we want the plan to do?

We want our areas to become the very best and make sure we are able to provide good care and services for everyone with a learning disability.

We want our plan to make sure that we change the parts of the system in Calderdale, Kirklees, Wakefield and Barnsley that are not working well.

We will think about what we know works well and how we can do more of this. We want to think about of new ideas on how we can work.

We will look at the things we are not doing well or not doing at all. We will think about how we can make these better.

We want to make sure we spend our money in the best way for everyone.

We will make sure we spend our money on care and support that meets the needs of people with a learning disability now and in the future.

What are the big issues in the plan?

- 2
- 3
- 4
- 5

The Partnership want to work together to make sure things change for people with a learning disability. We want to make sure we use our money in the best way to make sure we get the best care and support for people.

The plan is going to work on some big issues:

Fewer people in inpatient beds

In our area we need to make sure that there are fewer people in inpatient beds in places like Assessment and Treatment Units.

We know that there are 61 bed spaces that we commission at the moment. There are 12 people who have been in places like units for more than 5 years. We want to change this.

If there are fewer bed spaces more people will be being supported in their community than in hospitals. By 2019 we want less than half of the bed spaces that we have now.

We want to make sure that people get the right support in the community so that they don't need to go to hospitals.

Specialist community services

We want services that support people with their health and care in local areas to be better.

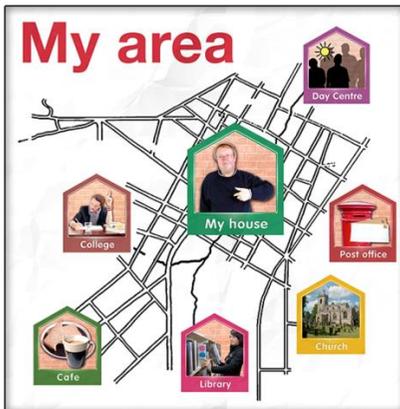

We want to have new types of services and lots of different types of services so that people can get the right service and care for them.

If we have these types of service we should be able to respond better when a person has an emergency. This will mean that people are less likely to have to go into a hospital.

Developing communities to help people to live in their own homes

We want local communities to be better at supporting people to live in their own homes.

We want all the people who work with people with a learning disability have the right skills and knowledge to make sure people are safe and well. We want to make sure people have good safe places to live.

Understand who is in our local areas.

We need to know about the people who may need more support so we can make sure that they get the right care to stop them having to go into places like Assessment and Treatment Units if there is an emergency.

Make sure people have good lives

We want to make sure that people with a learning disability have the opportunities to live good lives in the way that they want. We want to make sure people feel happy and safe.

We want to make sure all our care is personalised, this means all about the person. We want to make sure people have the right care at the right time in the right place by the right person.

By 2019 we want to make sure people have choice and control about the care and support that they get.

How will we know if the plan makes a difference?

Our plan and the work we do will be checked by different groups of people like NHS England.

We have to show them that we are making a difference and improving people's lives.

We will know we have made a difference to people through things like:

- Good feedback from people and their carers
- More people having health checks and people's health being better
- Less people going in to hospitals
- More people in their own homes
- More people in jobs
- Fewer people in places like Assessment and Treatment Units.
- Fewer people dying earlier than they should have.

If these things are not getting better we will know our plan and the work we are doing is not enough.

What we will need to make sure the plan works?

We share same ideas - We need to make sure that everyone doing the work in the plan agrees with what the plan says and thinks it is the right plan.

Keeping our Word - We should all want to change the way things work to make things better for people. We should agree that we will do what we say we will do to make sure the plan happen.

Support - We want support from people in the community, the public, and leaders in our areas so that everyone working on the plan knows how important the work is.

Funding - We need to make sure that there is enough money for the plan to work. This will be difficult but it is important everyone working on the plan agrees on how money will be spent.
